THE BOOKS OUR CHILDREN STUDY.—We commend the following article, from the Columbus (Ohio) Journal, to the consideration of those who have the responsibility of selecting books for our schools:

Our standard school books sometimes contain curious information. A few evenings ago we heard a lad reciting a lesson from McGuffey's Fourth reader, and our attention was attracted by a singular definition. The proposition was, "Spell and define the word signifies."

The pupil spelled the word properly and gave the definition, to wit: "Signifies—To be important."

This seemed incredible, but it was verily so. Upon further examination we found the following definitions, when we concluded to suspend criticism, to wit:

"Wilderness—A place where no one lives."

No one lives in a church steeple, therefore it is a wilderness.

"Desert—A wilderness. A place where no one lives."

"Echoed—Throw back."

A rowdy throws a brick at a loafer, and the loafer throws it back at him. So it is "echoed."

"Fawned—Frisked about."

Your dog lays his head upon your lap to be petted—fawns upon you. According to the book this is "frisked about."

The same book contains definitions equally ridiculous. The wonder is that they should appear in McGuffey's series. If pupils are instructed in this way, they will be apt to discover that language is not intended to convey ideas.

THE LATE ARRESTS.—There has been considerable excitement in the community for three days past, owing to the arrest of three prominent citizens, upon a grave charge, and their summons to Golden City for trial. The News, as we are well aware, has come in for a considerable share of strictures because it did not regale its readers with full particulars, reports, rumors and suppositions.

Since the cases have now been disposed of for the present, and the charges and names of the persons arrested are in everybody's mouth, we can see no impropriety in mentioning them. The men arrested are James McNassar, Hugh T. Munson and R. D. Darlington; all well known citizens and old residents of this county. They were indicted by the grand jury of Jefferson county for alleged connection with the killing of Michael Leyden, of that county, last spring. It was generally understood at the time that Leyden was charged with wrongfully appropriating other people's cattle, and that his "taking off" was by a vigilance committee. It is proper to add that the court felt justified in admitting the prisoners to bail. They are now at large, and the hearing of the case is postponed until the next term of the court in August.—Denver News, 23d ult.

THE FENIAN CELEBRATION.—The celebration to be given under the auspices of the Sarsfield Circle of the Fenian Brotherhood, in behalf of the cause, at Centreville next Saturday evening, will be one of the grandest affairs ever gotten up in Idaho. The main feature of the evening will be the Address by Frank Ganahl, Esq., whose unquestioned superiority as an orator, is sufficient to attract everybody there. And the Sarsfield Circle, with their sterling Centre, Con. Donahue, at their head, have made other preparations to attract and entertain their fellow citizens. A very large Fenian delegation from the Emmet Circle, and of citizens generally of Pioneer City, will be there, and so, we learn, will full delegations of the Brotherhood come from Placerville and Granite creek. We trust that on this occasion there will also be a large delegation from this city, and that all who start will reach the point of destination. There should be no failures; nor will there be, we are very sure.—Idaho World, 23d ult.

THE DEATH OF MAJ. GEN. SICKLES.—Gen. Sickles was called to New York on Tuesday night by the intelligence of the serious illness of Mrs. Sickles, and the next day news of her death was received. Mrs. Sickles was the daughter of Prof. Bagioli, of New York, and is remembered as one of the most brilliant and fashionable women ever seen in Washington. She was married to Gen. Sickles very young, and her first appearance, at the heighth of her youthful beauty, during Gen. Pierce's administration, will long be recollected. Since the terrible tragedy with which her name was unhappily connected she has steadily excluded herself from all the circles in which she was at one time a welcome and leading participant. The cause of her death was believed to be the heart disease.—Washington Chronicle.

The Omaha Republican, of February 15th, contains the following:

We learn that the hardest snow storm they have experienced this winter has prevailed at Kearny since Wednesday, and to-day it has been snowing there harder than ever. It is stated to be four feet deep on the level.

At the Grand Island Station five locomotives were blocked in the snow, and everything was at a stand there.

No train had come in on the U. P. R. R. up to noon to-day, since Wednesday.

WARTS ON HORSES.—A Nebraska man tells the Rural New Yorker how to cure warts on horses: Mix equal quantities of spirits of turpentine and sulphuric acid, stirring slowly in a tumbler, and afterwards bottle the ingredients. Rub grease around the base of the wart, and then apply the medicine to the wart with a feather once or twice a day; it will gradually eat it off.

INFORMATION WANTED—Of the whereabouts of John and Charles Traul, or either of them, by their brother Richard Traul. Should this paragraph come to the notice of either of them, they will confer a favor by addressing Richard Traul, at Idaho City, I. T., immediately.

INFORMATION is wanted of John Richards, who left Salt Lake for Denver on the 18th of last December, since which time nothing has been heard of him. Address Catharine Richards, Medina, Ohio, or the Postmaster in this city.

BULLION.—The total value of all bullion, in gold bars, ingots or otherwise, produced during the fiscal year 1866, in the United States, was $61,830,341, of which $10,000,000 was assessed in the States and Territories west of the Rocky Mountains.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

Rev. Norman McLeod.

A few days since we were shown a private letter from a former resident of Utah, written at Cleveland, Ohio, in which the writer said he had attended the previous Sabbath evening a lecture by Rev. Norman McLeod, in one of the churches of that city. From other sources, including our exchanges, we learn that the Reverend gentleman is drawing crowded and deeply interested audiences throughout the Northern and Eastern States. His friends, and the friends of the cause he represents, will be glad to learn that Mr. McLeod is doing much towards raising a fund to erect a suitable church building in this city, and that he is devoting himself to the task with that energy and eminent ability characteristic of the man.

There are few ministers of the Gospel who would have voluntarily undertaken the work thus far so well performed by Mr. McLeod, and a still less number who are so well adapted for it. In the winter of 1864–5 he left a comfortable and well provided home and a large and growing congregation in the city of Denver to take upon himself the arduous post of missionary labor in Utah. He organized a church in this city—the first Gentile church in the Territory—established a flourishing Sabbath School, and collected from among our own citizens and those of California, funds sufficient to purchase a large lot and erect Independence Hall, in which every Sunday morning he preached, and in the evening lectured.

As the pioneer minister of Christianity, the name of Norman McLeod will ever fill a conspicuous space in Utah history. About him and his work there is nothing of the cant of mere Sectarianism. His sermons abound in that enlarged charity and good will which are the essence and spirit if not the very foundation of Christianity. Appreciating fully the situation, mere doctrinal points or forms of church worship and creed, had no part in his discourses, which were eagerly listened to by crowds of all denominations. The Methodist, the Presbyterian, the Catholic, alike united in his support and in receiving his ministrations. But, perhaps, the great feature during his stay here, was his series of Sabbath night lectures on Polygamy. They were no mere vulgar tirades of abuse of Mormons. Such a man as Norman McLeod could never descend to it, even though his theme might seem to. But he handled his subject with the force, and dignity, and searching analysis of the scholar, rhetorician, and Christian gentleman, that he is. That these lectures produced a profound impression was evident alike from the hundreds who were nightly unable to obtain admittance to the Hall, and the unrestricted abuse which still assails him. With a private character unsullied by even the breath of suspicion, in a community where the darkest suspicions are cherished, and magnified, exaggerated and alternately whispered and bellowed, he passed unscathed, except alone of that vulgar, pointless, shaftless and, we may add, harmless detraction and vituperation, which, like the Australian boomerang, returns only to injure him who uses it.

There are few men of his age possessed of the scholarly attainments, burning eloquence, impressive delivery, coolness of judgment and personal courage of Norman McLeod. For the labor in which he has been and soon, we trust, will be again engaged, he is peculiarly and pre-eminently fitted.

For twenty years has Utah been peopled with a rapidly increasing population, and since 1849 with a goodly number of Gentiles, yet until Mr. McLeod essayed the task, there had not been even an attempt at establishing any sort of a Church except that of the Mormons. While the Pecksniffs—and those who are not Pecksniffs—expend millions annually in sending missionary warming pans to the Indies, and fine tooth combs to the coasts of Africa; while the sorrows of Boorioboola Gah touch the tender sympathies of the great English and American Mission Societies, no one seems to think that out in Utah is a wider and more important field for missionary labor than in all the world beside.

If Mormonism is intrinsically and divinely right, it need not fear any intellectual (or for that matter, any other) assault on its stronghold. If it is a huge wrong, it can never be worsted by blowing paper bullets at long range against it, or by mere abuse, denunciation and invective. Two or three such men in Utah as Rev. Norman McLeod, are worth more than all the Congressional speeches contained in forty volumes of the Congressional Globe, including the Appendix.

"One blast upon his bugle horn,
Were worth ten thousand men."

THE LATEST.—A San Francisco dispatch to the Sacramento Bee of the 16th ult., says:

Horace Porter, the well known restaurateur, has filed a petition for a decree of discharge from his creditors. His debts amount to $22,000—total assets, $8,897.85, all of which is mortgaged or under attachment.

The Call opposes the Alta's scheme for the increase of the police force, and declares that it is useless to talk of increase until the present force is managed with some degree of skill and judgment.

The Board of Directors of the Industrial School have decided to remove all the larger females from that institution to Magdelan Asylum. The policy of this movement admits of argument.

Catherine Brady, who imagines that she is the mother of God, was sent to the Insane Asylum on Friday.

One house here sold 15,000 Valentines this season and had twelve men employed delivering them.

John H. Rand, a native of Boston, Massachusetts, was drowned at Mare Island, while at work at the dry dock, on Thursday.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, March 2.

The President's veto of the Military Government bill was considered in the Senate this morning from 7 till 11 o'clock, when the vote was taken and the bill passed—yeas, 38; nays, 10. The President (Foster) then declared it a law, without the signature of the President.

In the House, the veto of the bill regulating the President's power of appointment and removal from office was considered, and the bill passed over the veto—yeas, 121; nays, 37.

The Tariff bill which passed the Senate today is the same as the wool and woolen bill, passed by the House two days before the close of the last session, so no further action is required by the House, and the bill will be laid before the President to-night for his approval.

Washington, March 2.

The President's veto of the Military Government bill fills four columns of the New York papers. His argument is, principally, that the bill is not in accordance with Constitutional law. Quoting the powers conferred by the bill on Military Governors, he says the power of the United States given to the commanding officer over all people of the Southern States is that of an absolute monarch. His mere will takes the place of the law. The laws of the States, the only rules applicable to the subject, are under his control, and are completely displaced by the clause which declares all interference by State authority to be null and void. He alone is permitted to determine what are the rights of persons and property. He may protect them in such way as in his discretion may seem proper, and there is placed at his disposal all lands and goods in his district, which he may distribute without let or hindrance to whom he pleases, being bound by no State law, and there being no other law to regulate the subject. He may make a criminal code of his own, and he can make it as bloody as any recorded in history, or he can reserve the privilege of acting on the impulse of his individual passion in each case that arises.

The message argues that the bill virtually establishes martial law in the States lately in rebellion, and quotes from the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the Milligan case, that the necessity for martial law must be actual, and the present interference with legal process such as to effectually close the Courts and depose the civil authority. This bill, it claims, makes martial law operate as though we were in actual war, and becomes the cause instead of the consequence of the abrogation of civil authority.

It quotes further from the decision of Chief Justice Chase, that there are, under the Constitution, three kinds of military jurisdiction: one to be exercised both in peace and war; another to be exercised in time of foreign war without the boundaries of the United States, or in time of rebellion and civil war, within the States or district occupied by rebels treated as belligerents; and third, to be exercised limits of the United States, or during rebellion within the limits of States maintaining adhesion to the National Government. When the public danger requires its exercise the first of these may be called jurisdiction rendered necessary under military law, and is found in the Acts of Congress prescribing rules and articles of war, and otherwise providing for the government of the national forces. The second may be distinguished as military government superseding as far as may be deemed expedient the local law, and exercised by the military commander, under the direction of the President, with the express or implied sanction of Congress. The third may be denominated the law proper, and may be called into action by the President, temporarily, when the action of Congress cannot be invited, in cases of justifying and excusing peril by reason of insurrection or invasion, or civil or foreign war, within districts where ordinary law no longer insures the public safety. Of the three military jurisdictions which can be exercised or created under our Constitution, there is but one that can prevail in time of peace, and that is the code of laws enacted by Congress for the government of the national forces, and that code of military law has no application to citizens, nor even to citizens who are enrolled in the militia, in time of peace. But this bill is not part of that sort of military law, for that applies only to soldier and not to citizen, while the military government provided by this bill points only to citizen and not to soldier.

The Constitution also forbids the arrest of the citizen without judicial warrant founded on probable cause; this bill authorizes arrest without warrant, at the pleasure of the military commander. The Constitution declares that no person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime unless on presentment by a grand jury; this bill holds every person not a soldier answerable for all crimes and all charges, without any presentment. The Constitution declares that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law: this bill sets aside all process of law, and makes the citizen answerable in his person and property to the will of one man, and subjects his life to the will of two. Finally, the Constitution declares that the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless, in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require; whereas this bill declares martial law, which of itself suspends this great charter in a time of peace, and authorizes the military to make arrests, and gives to prisoners only one privilege, and that trial without unnecessary delay. He has no hope of release from custody, except the hope, such as it is, of release by acquittal before a military commission. This bill wipes away every vestige of republican government in ten States, and puts the lives, liberties, property and honor of all the people in each of them under the dominion of a single person, clothed with unlimited authority. The fathers of the country, determined that no such thing should occur here, withheld such power from Congress, and thus forbade its exercise by that body; and they provided in the Constitution that no State should pass any bill of attainder, thus making it impossible for any person in this country to be Constitutionally affected for any crime by legislative proceedings of any sort. Nevertheless, here is a bill of attainder against nine millions of people, based upon a charge so vague as to be scarcely intelligible, and found to be true upon no credible evidence. Not one of the nine millions was heard in his own defence; representatives of the doomed parties were excluded from all participation in the trial. Conviction is to be followed by the most ignominious punishment ever inflicted on large masses of men. It disfranchises them by hundreds of thousands, and degrades them, even those who are admitted to be not guilty, from the rank of freemen to the condition of slaves.

The purpose and object of this bill, which prevails from beginning to end, is to change the entire structure and character of these State governments, and compel the people by force into the adoption and organization of laws and regulations which they are unwilling to adopt. The negroes have not asked for the privilege of voting. A vast majority of them have no idea what it means. But this bill not only thrusts the ballot into their hands, but compels them, as well as whites, to use it in a particular way. If they do not form a Constitution with prescribed articles in it, and afterwards elect a Legislature which will act upon certain measures in a prescribed way, neither blacks nor whites can be relieved from the disabilities which this bill imposes upon them.

Without pausing to consider the policy or impolicy of Africanizing the southern part of our territory, he would simply ask the attention of Congress to that manifest, well known and universally acknowledged rule of Constitutional law which declares that the Federal Government has no jurisdiction, authority or power to regulate such subjects for any State. Wresting the right of suffrage out of the hands of white people, and giving it to the blacks is among the arbitrary features of the bill.

This bill imposes martial law at once, and its operations are to begin as soon as the Generals and their troops can be stationed. The dread alternatives of undergoing its harsh rule, or compliance with the terms of this measure, are not suspended, nor are the people afforded any time for free deliberation. The bill says to them: Take martial law first; then deliberate. And when they shall have done all that this measure requires them to do, other conditions and contingencies, over which they have no control, will yet remain to be fulfilled.

Washington, March 3.

The Senate rejected the nomination of John M. Murphy as Governor of Idaho.

A communication was received from the Secretary of the Treasury, showing that the total amount received from various sources, properly enumerated under the general head of captured and abandoned property, was $34,000,000, of which nearly $25,000,000 remain as net proceeds.

A letter was read from Minister King, saying there was no truth in the statements that the American Protestant chapel had been removed outside of the walls of Rome by order of the Papal authorities, and that the American Minister had assented to an arrangement by which a villa outside the walls was to be hired, where religious services would henceforth be held.

New Orleans, March 2.

City of Mexico dates are to Feb. 19. Maximilian had left, going northward with 6,000 men, his destination being the scene of war.

Mejia, having 6,000 men had met Caravajal with a force of 2,000, and killed or captured the whole of them, taking their cannon and baggage.

Within three weeks the Liberals lost forty cannon in six battles. They were victorious once over the French.

Bazaine destroyed all guns, military stores and arms at Puebla and other cities, rather than turn them over to the Mexican Imperialists.

The Imperialists had won several battles and reclaimed 600 miles of territory, but the Liberals were rapidly investing the Capital and contracting their lines.

The French Marshal is showing marked kindness to the Americans who are leaving the country.

Washington, March 4.

The Senate has confirmed the following nominations: United States Minister to San Salvador, A. S. Williams; Governor of Dakota, Andrew J. Fulke, of Pa.; Arbitrator on the part of the United States to reside at Sierra Leone, F. A. Whittlesey, of N. Y.

The report of the Committee on the alleged frauds in the New York Custom House exposes much censurable conduct on the part of the present collector, Smythe. It censures general order business, which Smythe sold out, and that Peter A. Vanbergen, Geo. F. Thompson, Senators Doolittle and Patterson, and a Mrs. Perry, had an interest in the business. Smythe informed Mr. Humphrey that he had obtained $40,000 per annum for this business from Messrs. Miller & Conger, and on Humphrey's remonstrance against being trifled with in this manner, Smythe coolly offered a gratuity of $3,000 out of this. It was shown that $40,000 out of this was divided as follows: Geo. F. Thompson, late of the Daily News, $5,000; Senators Doolittle and Patterson, $3,000 each; Embree, Deputy Collector, $2,000; Humphrey (and by him at once rejected), $3,000; Brown, private secretary of the Collector (and by him rejected), $2,000; Political Fund, $10,000; Mrs. Perry (known as a Washington woman), $3,000; Bergen, $5,000. This makes up the $40,000, so as to correspond technically with Smythe's oft reiterated assertion that he was not to have a dollar of it. This showing, however, left him sole almoner of $10,000, the political fund. The report also exposes existing systematized and protracted extortion.

A majority of the Impeachment Committee reported that they had examined a large number of witnesses and collected a large number of documents, but have been unable to conclude their labors. They say, however, that charges have not been negatived to such an extent as to admit of no discussion; also state that sufficient testimony has been taken to justify and demand a further prosecution of the investigation.

The minority of the Committee reported that there was not a particle of evidence to sustain the charges.

The Judiciary Committee, in their investigation of the discovery and arrest of Surratt, found, or report, that no effort was made by the detective police to trace the movements of Surratt, notwithstanding ample opportunity was offered; that the Executive did not notify our Minister at Rome that Surratt was going there, when the Government had every reason to believe that such was his intention; that the reward for his arrest was revoked November 24th, 1865; that from August 8th to October 16th, 1866, no steps were taken to arrest Surratt, then known to be in the military service of the Pope.

New York, March 4.

The Herald's Mexican correspondence says: Miramon recently informed a gentleman that the Southern Confederates were yet hand in hand with the Imperialists, and that General Hindman was corresponding with them in the hope that the two defunct establishments might so work together as to make both a success.

A Times special says it is understood that a commission to revise and report a new Tariff bill next winter will be appointed at the first session of the next Congress.

The Maryland Legislature will to-day elect a United States Senator in place of Governor Swann. The choice is between Ex-Governor Francis Thomas and Hon. E. B. Jones.

The President will sign the Bankrupt bill when it reaches him.

A Tribune special says that after much opposition in the Executive session, the nomination of General Dix as Minister to France was confirmed by over two-thirds of the Senators present. Cowan's nomination was so fiercely assailed that Buckalew was forced to move it tabled.

Washington, March 4.

The Committee of Conference appointed to act with the Senate Committee on the organization of land districts in the Territories, recommended that the House recede from its disagreement to the Senate amendment, which excluded Utah from the provisions of the bill. Agreed to, and the bill passed.

Washington, March 4.

The President has approved the Bankrupt bill; also the bill to make valid the proclamations of the President, thus exempting military officers and soldiers from the operations of the courts. All important appropriation bills and all other bills presented to the President, including the Wool Tariff bill, have been approved and signed by him; also the Tax bill.

The Mexican Legation has official information of the capture of Guajorato by the Liberals, together with 1,500 prisoners, 700 muskets, 22 cannon, ammunition and other war material. The battle lasted six hours.

Washington, March 4.

All important appropriation bills have been passed, and all business on the tables of the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate transacted.

The President and Cabinet have been at the Capitol this morning attending to public business.

FROM NEVADA.—The Enterprise has the following items under date of February 26th:

Yesterday we were visited by a terrific gale. At times such clouds of snow filled the air that it was impossible to see more than a rod or two in any direction. On the Divide, between this city and Gold Hill, where the wind had a fair sweep, teams of horses and mules refused to face the driving and blinding sheets of flying snow, the poor beasts turning back and huddling around the wagons to which they were attached. Even men on horseback were unable to face the blast, laden as it was with frozen snow, and turned about to await the subsidence of the storm. The tin roof of the Crystal Peak hotel, South C street, was rolled up, torn from its place and carried a considerable distance to a vacant lot, where it was deposited, a shapeless mass. The rear of Heilshorn's livery stable was blown out; an old barn at the north end of the city, the property of Major Cummins, was blown down, smashing a wagon in its fall; a small frame house on South C street was demolished by the weight of snow upon it, combined with the pressure of the gale against its sides, and a great number of roofs suffered more or less in various parts of the city.

It is thought probable that the Henness Pass route may be opened sufficiently to render it passable for sleighs within two days. Several snow slides have occurred on the route, but none of sufficient volume to seriously blockade the road. No stages have left Cisco for this city since last Thursday. The coaches which left on that day were three days in reaching here. A train of cars left Cisco on Wednesday last for Sacramento, but at last accounts had not yet reached Alta—23 miles from the place of starting—but they may have got through yesterday. Drivers on the route report the snow to average four feet between Crystal Peak and Chamberlin's Station, on the Little Truckee. Across the Truckee Meadows, from the foot of the Geiger Grade in Crystal Peak, the snow is about two feet deep with a muddy bottom. The snow is badly drifted on the Geiger Grade throughout its length, and at present is almost impassable—it fact, Hall's laundry sleigh was unable to get further than the north end of C street and the rest of the distance was made on horseback. The wind of yesterday vastly increased the size of the drifts everywhere along the grade.

Saturday night last was the coldest yet experienced this winter at Dayton. Ice formed on the Carson river to the thickness of three inches.

A letter to Colonel Bob Taylor of this city, and containing a check for $150, was mailed in Gold Hill January 9, 1867, and came to hand in the post-office in this city yesterday—having been but forty-seven days in traveling a little over one mile.

Several buildings have been crushed in at Silver Peak by the weight of snow resting upon them.

The Placerville route is at present completely blocked. There are two or three land slides in the vicinity of Strawberry, and a number of heavy snow slides in various places. It is thought the road may possibly be put in passable condition in the course of five days. speedy opening of the road, but an immense amount of work will be necessary to render it passable for coaches.

The Gold Hill News has the following:

We learn from a private letter, just received, that at Meadow Lake the snow is twenty-two feet deep. The Golden Eagle Company, wishing to obtain ore from their dump pile, made an attempt to dig down to the ore and found the snow to be that depth. If the storms continue as late in the spring as they did last year and of the same severity, the snow will be in the vicinity of a hundred feet deep.

Owing to the heavy fall of snow on the Sierra Nevada mountains, all communication has been cut off, and no stages from the west have arrived for the past two days. The Geiger Grade is said to be altogether impassable, and will probably remain so for several days. When the stages will be again running, is hard to tell.

THE Virginia Trespass of February 25th says; "Just as we go to press telegraphic connection with San Francisco has been announced, and although we are unable to present our usual telegraphic dispatches, to-morrow we trust will rectify the matter. From Mr. Bloomer, we learn that some immense snow slides have occurred between Strawberry and Yank's Station, and that it will be impossible for stages to pass in less time than four days. It was feared that the operator at Webster's Station was lost in the snow, but the fact that at last connection has been made gives some assurance of his safety. So far as heard from, no lives have been lost."

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (in it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most prominent medium for advertising in these four Territories.

ODD FELLOWS.—We yesterday visited the Hall which has been recently dedicated to the use of members of both the Masonic and Odd Fellows Orders. We had occasion recently to notice the exercises of the Masons on the opening of the new Hall, and now devote notice the improvements made by the Odd Fellows. The crimson canopy over the throne of the N. G. and that over the chair of the V. G. is certainly a handsome ornament to the room. Mr. Briel, of Morris & Co.'s establishment, deserves praise for the care and skill of his work. A number of pictures have been added to the Hall, and the most conspicuous is that of the late P. G. M., of this city, Samuel H. Parker, Esq., whose memory will every be cherished by every member of the Order. This picture, which is an admirable one and which portrays the character of the man, is a present to the Lodge from P. G., C. Diehl. an old member of Mormon Lodge, No. 13, of San Francisco, and a worthy member of Utah Lodge, of this city. The present appearance of the Lodge-room shows that there are no pains spared to render it inviting to the visit of all members and the residents of, or passing through our city.

A DIF.—It is said that one of the belles of this city, whose prepossessing appearance and for her the admiration of all lovers of the beautiful in nature, has recently been slighted by a member of the "loyal clique." It is also rumored that a very prominent merchant and a persistent adherent of the views of the "faithful" in Utah, who was looking for a "fourth" partner of his joys, has been disappointed in his hopes. This disappointment made him rather belligerent yesterday, and the consequence was an arrest and order to appear at a different ceremony than was anticipated. But the course of true love never runs smooth.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that the wounded heart has been healed by its success in another direction.

RUMORS.—Various reports were in circulation yesterday—rumors of fights and arrests. At every step we were accosted by some one with the question, "Have you heard about the fight?" to which an answer in the affirmative was invariably given. The whole city seemed excited on that point. We were also asked repeatedly if we had seen the "ex-Captain." One gentleman remarked he had just passed down the street, with a tall cap and a high shirt collar; but it was a mistake, for that was only "Lame Bob," carrying Sumner's auction advertisement and earning an honest penny.

ADVERTISING THE NEWSPAPERS.—Sumner, the auctioneer, has adopted an old and ingenious, as well as a humorous, plan of advertising. He noticed, yesterday, an individual going through town dressed in a very fantastical manner, with a shirt collar that would throw to shade any candidate for Congress, and bearing an immense transparency announcing the great auction of to-day at Sumner's store. This is a plan to cheat us of our legitimate advertising, we will have to get even by not noticing his sales.

BANKRUPTCY.—The proprietor of an extensive mercantile establishment in this city became disgusted with one of his clerks yesterday and appointed to administer to him a chastisement. It is said the clerk was rather too much for him, and the "Boss" got the worst of it. The reports are, however, conflicting; they say the merchant won the fight, but the clerk will decide the matter in court to-day.

AN OLD JOKE.—A few days since a gentleman sent a note to a grocer, with a jug, and a request that it might be filled with old rye. The surprise of the writer may be imagined, when the jug was returned filled with oats, and the grocer had to rye, instead of corn. Rather dry, particularly if the man was thirsty.

THE EX-CAPTAIN.—Numerous inquiries are being made as to who that ex-Captain is, who figured in the Daily Telegraph. Do, some one, inform the public, we cannot, and are hourly bored with the question of "who is he?" Some one says a reward will be offered as public curiosity is not soon gratified.

DEATH OF FRAZIER.—The many friends of this gentleman regret her early departure from us. The Western coach to-day deprives the company. Her destination, we believe, is Austin, and we shall look for the announcement of her safe arrival, in the Reveille, with some anxiety.

CORRECTION.—In our notice yesterday of C. [illegible] & Co., of Idaho City, it was made to read "C. F. Blake," and "Boise" City instead of Idaho City. The article was written in a hurry, as we were all going to school. Will our friends please accept amend?

FORTIETH CONGRESS.—This august body no reconvened yesterday at noon. Its action various subjects will be anxiously looked for, particularly by the inhabitants of this Territory.

THE STORM.—We copy, this morning, quite a number of extracts from the Nevada papers, from the fact that it enables our readers, who are unacquainted with the points on the road, to judge of the extent of the recent storm.

LATEST ITEMS FROM ABOVE.—The "Church of Latter Day Saints," per Joseph Smith, held a meeting at De Soto, in Washington [illegible] a short time since, in which the gifts, if not the "graces," of the New Testament were emphatically manifested—prophesying, speaking in unknown tongues, interpretation, etc.—being a very edifying matter to themselves, and considerably interesting to spectators. By-the-way, the Saints—[illegible]combe!—design establishing a "church home" in De Soto in a week or two.

INDIAN MASSACRE.—An Indian massacre at Fort Phil. Kearney, a soldier who was murdered had one hundred and twenty-five arrows in his body.

From the North.

The Montana Post, of the 24th ult., has the following items:

The contest for the Mayoralty was quite exciting, and engrossed the attention of quite a number of the talking fraternity during the day. The two candidates were neck and neck until within a half hour of the closing of the polls, when Castner lapped over Lee slightly and reached the winning post an inch or two ahead. We hope he may enjoy the laurels, as well as he deserves. The following is the vote cast:—Castner, 239; Lee, 225; Hughes, 3; Ohle, 1. Total, 468. Castner's majority, 10.

From Captain R. W. Andrews, just arrived from Copperpolis, we glean the following intelligence with reference to that land of brimstone and bilge water: There are now some sixty men in that section who are engaged in prospecting and sinking on the various leads already discovered. On the Copperpolis, they are down forty-two feet; on the Crittenden thirty-nine; the Cole Sanders twenty, and on the Tuscarora thirty-five. These leads, together with the Boomerang, Canada, Muscleshell and two or three others, are located on one continuous ledge, which crops out for miles, the width of whose crevice will average from seven to eight feet. The Captain entertains a high opinion of that whole region, and thinks that before long one thousand men will be employed in developing the various ledges.

Each day brings to light more new and important discoveries. The latest in this line is one which has recently been made in some little swags lying on the mountain between St. Louis and Skelley gulches. It is about eight feet to the bed-rock, and the pay dirt is some eighteen inches in depth; and the prospects are such that they almost surpass belief. A small handful of dirt will pan out one dollar, and as high as forty dollars has been taken out to the pan. Holmes' gulch, some four miles from this place, is also another new discovery, which promises well in the spring.

The Postlewait mill made another clean up on Sunday morning. The run was seven and a half days; rock crushed, Kearsage: amount, about 100 tons; yield, $3,996,00. The blanket tailings, which it is believed will average $8 per ton, are not included in this yield. The entire expenses of the mill and mine, per week, are about $650. The leakage in the housing has been stopped by inserting blanket packing between the timbers. The machinery is driven directly from the counter shaft which drives the battery, by a short vertical belt and tightening pulley. This is an innovation on the old method and is said to give entire satisfaction. The cake of retort, weighing 222 oz. 1 pwt. 18 grs., is on exhibition at Hussey, Dahler & Co.

From developments which have been carried on more or less for the past year, conclusive evidence has been adduced which proves, beyond doubt, the existence of an extensive channel between Dry gulch and Last Chance. The bar between these two gulches is supposed to contain pay dirt to an immense depth. The shaft of Whitney & Co., which is situated on the bar opposite No. 5 below discovery in Last Chance gulch, has been sunk to the depth of 227 feet, and prospects were found from the surface to the depth of one hundred feet. On claim No. 7, in the above gulch, a shaft has been sunk to the depth of forty feet, running through pay dirt all the way down, and no bed-rock as yet reached. The same may be said of numbers 19 and 22, as there are shafts on them to about the same depth.

Turnley's "Little Giant" mill cleaned up, on last Thursday, $6,424.45, from ninety tons of rock, from Whitlach Union ore, being an average of $71.33 per ton. This is one of the largest runs yet made, but one exceeding it, that being $8,420 from one hundred and three tons of ore. Judging from the above returns, we should say that both the lead and the mill continue to keep up their reputation.

PROF. HENRY W. LONGFELLOW, Dr. Samuel G. Howe, Mr. Edmund Quincy, Prof. Oliver Wendell Holmes, James Russell Lowell, Jas. T. Fields, Edwin P. Whipple, and Mr. Merritt Trimble of New York, acted as pall bearers at the funeral of N. P. Willis.
